Rights and Privileges Discussed by Edmund Wetmore, PRESIDENT BAR ASSOCIATION

PRESENT LEGISLATION, HE THINKS, NEEDS MODIFICATION.

Extreme Advocates of Socialism Are Found Not Among the Telling Masses, but Among Authors, Students and Theorists.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 21.—At the meeting of the American Bar Association today President Edmund Wetmore in the opening address discussed the more important legislation of the several states under the following classification: Corporations and trusts, labor, taxation, municipal ownership, elections, the administration of the law, civil and criminal, and newly created offenses, education, the laws relating to marriage and the relation of husband and wife, and laws upon miscellaneous subjects for the regulation of matters affecting public health, morals or welfare.

Corporations and trusts, he said, continue to occupy much legislative attention. He said: "The incorporation of a company in one state solely for the purpose of doing business elsewhere is not generally looked upon with favor in the states where they are intended to operate, and there is a tendency to extend the same corporate rights and extend the same corporate rights over foreign corporations as over those chartered in the state where they do business and even to hold the foreign corporations to a stricter accountability."

Mr. Wetmore also said: "The subject of trusts has entered into the political issues of the country. Time and time again, the same guarantees and extend the same corporate rights over foreign corporations as over those chartered in the state where they do business and even to hold the foreign corporations to a stricter accountability."

WOMAN WINS

Home of a New York Physician Broken Up.

CASE OF STRANGE INFATUATION

MRS. DR. SIMMONS LEAVES HUSBAND AND MISS WAITERS.

Both Women Have Disappeared From the Aristocratic Village of Westchester and Dr. Simmons Seeks a Divorce.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—A handsome woman, Miss Lea G. Walters, is accused of breaking up the home of Dr. John Gorse Simmons.

Miss Walters came to Westchester from New York about 10 years ago. She was employed first in Mallett's soda factory, but later opened a candy store, with a Mrs. Conklin as partner. The latter married Attorney Henry C. Henderson, and Miss Walters, closing the candy store, opened a real estate office, which she conducted up to the present time.

The conduct of Miss Walters, who had a real estate office in the village, and of Dr. Simmons has been the subject of gossip for many months.

The Freda Ward-Mitchell case in Memphis, Tenn., several years ago, which resulted in the death of Miss Mitchell by the hand of Miss Ward, is the only recent parallel to the present case.

Dr. Simmons says that since his wife left her home a week ago today she has been living with Miss Walters in a house in 125th street, near Alexander avenue.

Dr. Simmons is the leading medical practitioner of Westchester. He numbers among his patients many of the wealthy families of the county, and he is looked upon as a martyr in his present difficulty.

He is a graduate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Baltimore, and is known as an indefatigable worker. He was in a sense due to his utter absorption in his profession, which he has followed for twenty years, and Miss Walters grew up unloved by him and under his very eyes.

MAUDE ADAMS BACK FROM EUROPE READY TO BEGIN SEASON'S STUDY HEARS OF MOTHER'S DIVORCE SUIT

MISS MAUDE ADAMS.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Miss Maude Adams, Mme. Helen Modjeska, Anna Held and Mr. Heinrich Conrad came in from over the ocean yesterday on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse. All are looking well.

Miss Adams will immediately begin study in "Henry VIII." It was after her last retirement from the stage that Mrs. Glidden was married in New Jersey to her present husband, who is now the plaintiff in the divorce proceeding.

KEY OF FRAUDS

No Surprise at Arrest Made in New York.

INVESTIGATION WAS THEN MADE

IT SHOWED GROSS CROOKEDNESS OF IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS.

No Action Was Taken on Report Which Was Said to Involve Men Too High to Be Reached.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The arrest in New York of Ernest O. Sapelli, attorney at law, charged with attempting to bribe a New York immigration inspector, caused no surprise in the treasury department. Knowledge of extensive immigration frauds in New York has been in possession of the treasury department for many months, and the only surprise expressed is that an honest official happened to be assigned to the job, thus letting the conditions become public.

It is no secret in the treasury department that certain men connected with the immigration bureau in New York have been growing rich. The department, however, is either powerless to remove them or afraid of political influence behind them.

An official of the treasury department said that if ever an honest effort were made to investigate the management of Ellis Island, it would be found that the bribes accepted did not all go to the inspectors, and indirectly through the officials "higher up" were involved.

THE FAIR MAN MILLINER HOWSMON TRIES ON LADIES' HATS

Sees "How They Look on Him" Before He Delivers Them to Customers.

HE ALSO WEARS A THIMBLE

Considers a Marie Antoinette Hat With Ostrich Plumes the Prettiest of All.

BY ROSE MARION.

Tuesday I discovered a man milliner, not a man who deals in hats and bonnets merely, but who does that and trims them to suit the fashion.

I found him at the Lewis & Zukowski opening, where he and his sister milliners were looking at the novelties that were being displayed. It was a kind of an accident, this finding of him. I had heard of the boy trimmer employed in that establishment, and was seeking an interview with him. On being told that he had quit trimming hats, I was disappointed. When I saw him, he looked so disappointed that by way of a joke I informed him that the man milliner who trims hats is the same as the man who trims hats for ladies.

"I spoke to him upstairs," he added. "We went to the next floor and I was formally presented to Mr. C. A. Howsmom of Springfield, Ill., who has been a milliner for 25 years."

It would be quite a pleasure to see the picture of the man-milliner as you have it outlined.

Pictures Don't

Do Him Justice.

I'm willing to wager that all the pictures that are made of this man none of them will be true. Make your picture, read my description, then mentally apologize to Mr. Howsmom.

Director Taylor has addressed communications to members of the architects' commission, requesting them to draw plans for the various buildings.

The ground plans indicate that there shall be the first of the main structures which shall be made of architecture in size and design. Provisions are made and space reserved for a multitude of smaller structures. It is probable that plans for the big building will be begun on them first.

Because it will be necessary to erect them before the number of small structures can be determined.

Director Taylor gave a dinner Tuesday night at the Metropolitan Club to John M. Carrere, Thomas Hastings and Cass Gilbert, New York members of the architects' commission, and J. Howard Walker, Boston member.

After dinner, the plans of the exposition, as adopted by the commission in St. Louis a month ago, were discussed thoroughly and some minor changes were suggested. It was agreed that the plan as it now stands is the most available of all suggested.

This plan eliminates the court of honor, which was a crowning feature of the Chicago exposition, but it includes geyers, waterfalls, lakes and cascades. The architects believe that these are better adapted to the Forest City than the customary exposition landscape features.

Provision is made for the utilization of the forest site in its natural state as far as possible, which will be a departure from the conventional idea of exposition grounds.

Mr. Taylor and the members of the architects' commission already mentioned met Wednesday at the residence of Mr. Taylor, and discussed the plan of the exposition and the extent of the government buildings.

Two directors of the exposition are busy preparing for their visit to the Alton car festival Thursday and, consequently, no meeting was held Wednesday.

Director F. W. Lehman and Secretary Robert C. Taylor, who are in charge of the exposition, will be representatives of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co. at the Iowa State fair at Des Moines next week.

The agricultural committee is receiving many replies to its inquiry. It will implement them throughout the country relative to their opinions upon the manner in which the exposition should be carried out. The committee is also receiving many replies to its inquiry.

Secretary Reeves of the agricultural committee is asking what are the prospects for appropriation for exhibits, whether they will make money or whether they will lose money. He is also asking what branch of manufacturing industry will be the most successful.

Congressman Barthold, who has come to St. Louis to see the exposition, has written the press bureau a letter, urging that the exposition be carried out in a manner that will be a credit to the city.

Foreign press in the World's Fair, of which citizens of countries he has visited are ignorant generally.

Kansas City to Spend $1,000,000. Special to the Post-Dispatch. Aug. 21.—Kansas City will send a $1,000,000 exhibit to the St. Louis World's Fair.

The plans are being formed under the direction of the Commercial Club, which promulgated the idea.

Whatever the Commercial Club outlines for the advertisement of Kansas City comes to pass.

They have the ball to rolling everywhere in Kansas City gets in the push and helps to send it to the goal.

There is no knocking Kansas City against the St. Louis World's Fair, and its exhibit at the great Exposition will represent the state of the world as well as the enterprise of the builders.

They will visit St. Louis in 1903 to know that it is not the only city in Missouri that is not the only city in the world.

"We shall arrange an exhibit in harmony with the life of Kansas City. In other words, it will be a picture of the city as it is, and how it lives. Further than this I cannot speak of plans."

"Not less than $1,000,000 will open the doors of living buildings to be erected by Kansas City contractors from plans drawn by Kansas City architects in bonus competition."

C. A. HOWSMOM.
(He's the man milliner of Springfield, Ill., who tries on all the hats he makes before he delivers them to customers.)

He Wears a Thimble.

A trimmer from his store was present and strengthened his statement by his testimony.

"Do you wear a thimble?" "Certainly, how could I sew?" "But there's one thing he won't wear," said the trimmer.

"And that?" "That's the thing I won't have on," said the man milliner.

"What's that?" "That's a hat on your head," said the trimmer. "I don't know whether Mr. Howsmom is an original; that is, if you gave me a simple hat, with instructions to reproduce it, I should probably make a beautiful job, but if I delayed your officers," the desk sergeant was asked.

"Oh," he said, "they have to walk a long beat and there is no one in the United States who can cover the beat inside of an hour."

Persons living in the immediate vicinity of Easton and Goodfellow avenues declare that cars pass there at a speed of from 15 to 30 miles.

Rapid Running on Easton Avenue.

Fred Vahrenhold of 5765 Easton avenue said to the Post-Dispatch:

"I have been living on this way for several years, but not until during the last year have cars run so rapidly by my premises. I have stood with watch in hand and observed the speed of these cars and I know positively they run usually at the rate of 25 miles an hour."

"Only a few weeks ago the driver of a car was run down at Goodfellow and Easton avenues and thrown a distance of 50 feet. Fortunately he was not badly hurt."

The cars run so rapidly to make up schedule time. Often three or four cars pass in a row, and it is not unusual to see a car struck here."

Just how this accident occurred yesterday I am unable to say, but I know the car was struck the street when the car struck her."

Says Police Saw Few Eye Witnesses.

"The police didn't do much investigating when they came here. In fact most of the witnesses had gone and about all they got was hearsay."

Within a short time after the accident occurred a transient company claim agent was searching for witnesses in the neighborhood.

The frightful accident of which Mrs. Lacey was the victim did not seem to moderate the speed of the Easton avenue cars west of King's highway.

Two minutes and a half was the time required for No. 20 to make the distance between Taylor and Goodfellow avenues, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. This distance is about a mile and a quarter and the car was therefore running at the rate of about 25 miles an hour.

Arrests Not Warranted.

Chief of Police Kieley says that Sergeant Mitchell was right in not arresting Motorman Mitchell or Conductor Lewis.

"No negligence, so far as I am informed of the facts," said the chief, "was shown, and unless we would not be justified in making an arrest where there was a mere suspicion of negligence."

Would you consider the statement of two or three persons sufficient to hold the car crew liable?"

"That depends," replied the chief, "on who the witnesses are, and the firmness of their statements. On the other hand, there are always a number of persons willing to make exaggerated claims."

Asked if a high rate of speed constituted negligence, the chief answered affirmatively.

"If the ordinance was violated," he said, "the motorman running his car at a high rate of speed, the police would have deemed this cause to take action against the driver."

The car went about fifty feet before the motorman was able to stop it. Persons who had witnessed the accident carried the body onto the sidewalk, where it lay for two hours.

Immediately after the accident the conductor and motorman proceeded on their way.

An hour later the police arrived. They busied themselves collecting evidence concerning the accident, but were unable to find the body.

At 10 o'clock, just two hours after the accident, the ambulance arrived and the body was removed to the morgue.

ASKS ACTION ON FENDER BILL.

Council Member Boyce Gets Little Satisfaction in the House.

Capt. Joseph Boyce, a member of the railroad committee of the Council, visited the House of Delegates at its special session Wednesday morning, to urge immediate action on the fender bill, now in the hands of the House railroad committee.

"The cars are slaughtering human beings every day," said Capt. Boyce to Delegates. "I have been absent from the House railroad committee. 'Why don't you report the bill?'"

Heaven knows I am able to get the committee together," said Howard. "Some of the members have been absent from late meetings of the House. I will try to have something done in a few days."

Neil Daniels Has Disappeared.

Neil Daniels, 57 years old, janitor for the St. Louis Club, a body of the St. Louis Club, is reported as missing from his home since Aug. 18.

When he last home he carried a valise and two suits of clothes. His wife told the police that he had been absent from his home for several days.

There was no occasion for his leaving home.

BLAMES OFFICERS AND MOTORMAN.

of these distances, because they were measured soon after the accident."

"Do you know anything about speed of cars?" "Yes; they run about 17 or 18 miles an hour."

"You know how fast this car was running?" "I do not."

John Kungers' Testimony.

"The car was going about ten or twelve miles an hour," said John H. Kungers of 5722 Garfield avenue.

He said Mrs. Lacey walked up to the northeast corner while he was standing there. She started to cross the street with him. She walked slowly and was looking toward the ground.

"When she started across," said Kungers, "the car was some distance away. She had barely reached the south track when the car reached Goodfellow avenue. I mentioned and called to her to get out of the way. She did not seem to hear me, and was just about to leave the track when the car struck her."

John McMahon, 17 years old, 5740 Easton avenue, was at the corner of Goodfellow and Easton avenues when the accident occurred.

"When the car came along," he said, "I heard the motorman's gong ring and the car went on. The car had run into the woman. I assumed the motorman was trying to, but could not stop his car."

Asked how fast the car was going, he replied: "About 20 miles an hour. I know it was going too fast for any person to board it."

Mrs. John Kungers of 5740 Easton avenue declared that the car passed her door at a rate of speed varying from 15 to 25 miles an hour.

"I am sure the car," she said, "that killed Mrs. Lacey was going too fast. I saw Mrs. Lacey's body pitched forward by the car, but did not see the accident just as it occurred. The body must have been dragged about 20 feet and then thrown backwards 10 or 12 feet."

Sergeant Purcell of the Mounted District satisfied himself Tuesday that neither the motorman nor the conductor of the car was responsible for the accident and as a result they were not arrested.

Asked upon what information he based his decision, Sergeant Purcell said:

"Upon the inquiry conducted by my officers, Policemen Hall and Hade, and into the facts and told me the accident could not have been avoided."

"How soon did the officers reach the scene of the accident?" "About an hour after it occurred, I think," replied the sergeant.

"Introduce me to the witnesses Mr. Purcell said they had seen all of the witnesses Mr. Purcell said he thought they had, but on this point they were not sure."

He did not know the rate of speed the car was going, though he said that he understood it was going pretty fast.

"Of course," he added, "when officers get the car crew was gone. Now, am satisfied the transit company would look into the case and as the corner will make a more thorough investigation, I did not think it necessary to take action."

Persons living in the immediate vicinity of Easton and Goodfellow avenues declare that cars pass there at a speed of from 15 to 30 miles.

"The cars are slaughtering human beings every day," said Capt. Boyce to Delegates. "I have been absent from the House railroad committee. 'Why don't you report the bill?'"

Heaven knows I am able to get the committee together," said Howard. "Some of the members have been absent from late meetings of the House. I will try to have something done in a few days."

Neil Daniels Has Disappeared.

Neil Daniels, 57 years old, janitor for the St. Louis Club, a body of the St. Louis Club, is reported as missing from his home since Aug. 18.

When he last home he carried a valise and two suits of clothes. His wife told the police that he had been absent from his home for several days.

There was no occasion for his leaving home.

NO STOP TO THE TESTS

DEATH OF PATIENTS NO BAR TO YELLOW JACK INOCULATION.

MAJOR GORGAS REMORSEFUL

He Blames Himself for the Death of Two Patients Under Experiment.

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 21.—Dr. Caldas' experiments with his new yellow fever serum will not be stopped by the death of two mosquito-bitten subjects. But the official tests under the direction of Maj. Havard are at an end. When Dr. Caldas, a Brazilian physician, announced that he had discovered a serum which would kill the mosquito, as it were, vaccine persons and thereby render them immune, or with which he could cure persons having mild attacks of fever, Havana was the spot selected by the professor.

Maj. Havard's mosquitos are to have their supreme test. This test is to take place next Thursday, in spite of the deaths of Carro and Camp.

Dr. Caldas said: "It will make no difference in our experiments. We have already inoculated five non-immune with our serum and on Thursday we shall test them with infected mosquitos."

"The American authorities were too rash and reckless in their experiments. One case should have been allowed to develop before another was attempted. Yet it was a natural error."

Maj. Gorgas, chief sanitary officer at Las Animas, said:

"We shall continue our experiments. I have already issued orders to that effect. It is to be desired that such an accident should have occurred at this time, as it has made more than thirty inoculations prior to this time with the serum, and we can understand how it happened. Each of these cases was of the greatest severity. I held myself responsible for persons who were cured just as we appeared to have immunity. In sight through Dr. Caldas' serum."

It has not developed yet what action the American authorities will take in view of Dr. Caldas' decision in continuing his experiments.

FATHER M. D. LILLY IS DEAD.

He Was a Leader in the Order of Dominicans.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The Rev. M. D. Lilly, for more than thirty years father superior of the church of St. Vincent Ferrer, is dead at his home in this city. He had been blind for the last four years. He was prostrated by heat early in July and grew steadily worse.

Father Lilly was born in County Kerry, Ireland, about 1820. He came to this country when a young man and lived at Memphis, Tenn., until he joined the Dominican order. He was later, at St. Joseph's, Perry County, O., while still a young man he became president of the Dominican order. This position he held until he came here, about 1867. At that time he was made father superior of St. Vincent Ferrer parish. When Father Lilly took charge of St. Vincent's it was a very small parish, but in his hand it was built up and extended until it became the extensive parish that it is today.

Father Lilly, at two different times, presided over the eastern province, which included all churches of the order in this country, east of the Rocky Mountains.

Prescription No. 281 by Elmer & Amend will cure all complaints, but it will cure rheumatism.

DID NOT SUBM. COCKRAN.

Capt. Lee Says He Reminded Him, However, of His Boer Speech.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Arthur H. Lee, formerly military attaché at the British legation in Washington, who is in the city, arrived on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, when reminded of the story told in London that he had refused to shake hands with W. Bourke Cockran when they were introduced, said:

"I did not decline to meet Mr. Cockran, as had been reported, but I could not refrain from reminding him that I had heard him deliver a very eloquent address in Washington at a pro-Boer meeting, that was all."

Capt. Lee represented the British army in the war in Cuba and was present at the battle of Santiago. He was married and has a wife and three children.

FIVE MILLION ESTATE.

F. O. Matthiessen, the Sugar Magnate, Left a Great Fortune.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The estate of Francis O. Matthiessen, the sugar magnate, who died in France, is appraised at $5,180,000. Mr. Matthiessen owned a country seat at Irvington-on-the-Hudson and a town house on Fifth avenue.

POLSON OAK POISON IVY

are among the best known of the many dangerous wild plants and shrubs.

To touch or handle them quickly produces swelling and inflammation with intense itching and burning of the skin. The eruption soon disappears, the sufferer hopes forever; but almost as soon as the little blisters and pustules appeared the poison had reached the blood, and will break out at regular intervals and each time in a more aggravated form. This poison will linger in the system for years, and every atom of it must be forced out of the blood before you can expect a perfect, permanent cure.

NATURE'S ANTIDOTE FOR NATURE'S POISONS.

is the only cure for Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, and all noxious plants. It is composed exclusively of roots and herbs. Now is the time to get the poison out of your system, as delay makes your condition worse. Don't experiment longer with salves, washes and soaps—they never cure.

Mr. S. M. Marshall, bookkeeper of the Atlanta (Ga.) Gas Light Co. was poisoned with Poison Oak. He took Salve and various other drugs, and applied externally numerous ointments and salves with no benefit. At times the swelling and inflammation was so severe he was almost blind. For eight years the poison would break out every summer. The condition was much improved after taking one bottle of S. & S. and a few bottles cleared his blood of the poison, and all evidence of the disease disappeared.

People are often poisoned without knowing when or how. Explain your case fully to our physicians, and they will cheerfully give you full information and advice as you require. Without charge, and we will send at the same time an interesting book on Blood and Skin Diseases.

HORSE IN THE CHURCH

PRISONER IN BASEMENT AND CANNOT BE RELEASED.

SEXTON AND OWNER QUARREL

Wall Must Be Torn Down or the Blind Animal Killed to Get Him Out.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Because the sexton of the fashionable Trinity Episcopal Church, Michigan avenue and Twenty-second street, refuses to allow the owner to remove the horse which he has locked in the basement, the animal is in a state of suffering from numerous cuts and bruises, is occupying the basement of the sacred edifice as a hospital.

It is impossible to get the horse out without killing it or tearing down the wall. The sexton insists that the horse must be removed. Ducey declares that if the sexton wants the animal out he must get it out. The humane society has tried to remove it and the fire department has tried without success. What the sexton will do remains to be seen.

Ducey has a barn in the rear of 2831 Michigan avenue. He was driving out of the stable yesterday morning and he hurried to the cottage Grove Avenue Police Station and requested assistance for the removal of the animal. The officers informed him that removing horses from basements was a very serious matter and that he would have to get the horse out at once. Ducey would have been successful and the fire department would have been called in to remove the horse, but the sexton refused to allow the removal of the horse. Ducey worked for an hour and a half and then he gave up. He then called the humane society and they sent a veterinarian surgeon and a horse ambulance.

His efforts proved unavailing, however, and after two hours of work and worry he sought assistance from the humane society. The driver fell off the seat and when he recovered he found the horse still in the stable. He tried to release the horse from its strange prison.

There was no baseball game at League Park Tuesday.

For a brief period of four innings the crowd of 3000 spectators, including Frank De Haas Robinson himself, imagined that there was in prospect, but the remaining five rounds of play entirely dispelled the illusion and the hope.

The Pittsburghers descended on the curves of Eddie Murphy heavily and, with the miserable work of the Cardinals in the field and at the bat, utterly squeezed the ambition and the effectiveness out of that gentleman's pitching.

Even when Wicker was put in, although the sequential hitting of the visitors was stopped, they managed to make enough hits, aided by errors of the Cardinals, to score three runs more.

The grand total was 22 hits and 14 runs for Pittsburgh, and 6 hits and 2 runs for St. Louis.

Mr. Robinson was uncommunicative after it was all over, but his face was expressive. It was not beaming with delight.

Pittsburgh's hitting unquestionably won the game, driving out the runs which resulted directly from many errors of the visitors scored enough tallies to win the game twice over.

The mistakes of head and hand were, however, inexcusable in most cases. Many of them were amateurish, and many were not remedied by a proper attention to business.

Some of the throwing was remarkable. Murphy, after hitting Wagner's easy one, and with a wide margin to throw to first, could do no better than hit the runner in the back. Padden did a similar trick later in the game and in trying to catch a runner retreating, he hit him squarely on the crown of the head.

Burkett stood in the outfield like a scarecrow, and let the ball roll through his legs for three bases on what should have been a single.

Schriver on a throw home mediated several minutes at home plate after the runner had gone by him, while the runners advanced under the bag, one of them getting home.

Big Bill's effort after a foul fly was exceedingly. Eddie was hit by the ball, but he did not get out of the road. Bill directed a runner to the base, and planted himself firmly for the expected shock and put out his hands. The ball fell at his feet, and he was hit.

It was very pathetic, and Murphy went back to his box, considering the hands. The bunting was worse than any that was ever made behind Sudhof.

Heavy hitting is always responsible for errors, but it does not properly account for some of those made Tuesday.

When the game was hopelessly in the fire the crowd began shouting for Wicker. In the seventh inning, however, Wicker, without his having previously warmed up, Wicker did well, considering the hands.

He was in against Clarke, who had already tripled when he went in and his ultimate score was to have been expected. Bill directed a runner to the base, and planted himself firmly for the expected shock and put out his hands. The ball fell at his feet, and he was hit.
